Medical Expertise In The Law

A LICENSED PHYSICIAN AND EXPERIENCED TRIAL attorney, Dr. Dennis Mahoney began his professional career as an obstetrician/gynecologist. His medical practice included two years as a captain in the U.S. Army Medical Corps solely in the practice of obstetrics. After graduating first in his law school class, he spent the next 20 years defending physicians in medical malpractice cases. For the last 18 years, he has exclusively represented injured patients.

"I believe what makes me unique among plaintiffs' medical malpractice attorneys is not only my training as a medical doctor and an obstetrician, but my more than 20 years of experience defending doctors," says Dr. Mahoney. His experience defending medical malpractice cases gives him insight into how insurance companies evaluate and defend such cases. His background as a physician enables him to retain in-state doctors with the highest levels of expertise and sterling reputations to testify on behalf of his clients.

Mahoney's son, Kevin Mahoney, an honors graduate of Duke University School of Law (class of 1995), believes that he has been able to achieve success at a young age as a result of the tutelage of his father, and his father's willingness to let him take on cases that most young lawyers do not get to handle. "Going to work for my dad's law firm after law school has certainly allowed me to gain much more experience than I otherwise would have," says Kevin Mahoney. "Rather than sticking me in a room and having me write briefs for several years, my dad allowed me to take depositions and try cases right away." Kevin is licensed to practice in Colorado and Wyoming, and several of the firm's cases are from Wyoming.

He has also handled several cases involving medical malpractice claims against Kaiser Permanente physicians.

Dr. Mahoney's other son, Paul Mahoney, is also a graduate of Duke University School of Law (class of 1993). He not only handles medical malpractice cases, but he adds expertise to the firm in the areas of insurance litigation, insurance bad faith, personal injury and wrongful death. Paul has also handled several appeals, arguing cases in front of the Colorado Court of Appeals and the Colorado Supreme Court. Several of the cases that he has handled have resulted in published decisions.

MULTIPLE AWARDS IN EXCESS OF $1 MILLION

Dennis Mahoney's long and distinguished career has impacted catastrophically injured plaintiffs nationwide. With his background as an obstetrician and gynecologist, he has unique training and experience in cases that involve brain injuries to babies. He has also handled hundreds of cases that involve various types of medical negligence, including misdiagnosis, orthopedic surgery, general surgery, family practice, internal medicine, emergency medicine and more.

Throughout his career, he has achieved settlements and/or trial verdicts of $1 million or more in 26 cases in five states—North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado. Several of those settlements and trial verdicts have been obtained since his sons joined his practice. Mahoney's peers have recognized his excellence, as he has been listed in The Best Lawyers in America.
